

Shana Kinder-Glenn grew up training in Arkansas, Missouri, and Kentucky. This allowed her to train with many different teachers. She trained with American Ballet Theatre for two summers and Kansas City Ballet for one. Ms. Shana has worked with Nan Giordano and performed her work in Atlanta, Georgia.

Ms. Shana is proud to hold a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Dance from Missouri State University. While studying at Missouri State, Ms. Shana had the honor of performing and having her choreography chosen to represent the school at American College Dance Festival. She was also chosen to perform at the reopening gala for the Gillioz Theatre in Springfield, Missouri. Ms. Shana had the opportunity to work with Shirley Ririe and perform her memorial to the Holocaust, Ha Shoa. In the summer of 2006, Ms. Shana attended and performed at the Congreso de Pedagogia en la Danza (dance pedagogy congress) in Bogotá, Colombia. Ms. Shana's teaching experience also includes instructing ballet, modern, and partnering classes for Missouri State University. She was also a member of Inertia Dance Company, a community outreach dance company that annually brings dance to over 1,000 school children.

Since moving to Oklahoma, Ms. Shana has taught dance at Central High School Fine Arts Magnet and at Nancy Clarke School of Dance. She has also performed with Portico Dans Theatre. Ms. Shana lives in Owasso with her husband and their son and is now excited to teach at Owasso Dance Company.
